Last month, after waiting six months for the necessary approval from overseas, MPI was able to send our latest container to Ukraine. It contained 396 boxes of clothing, shoes, hygiene items, toys, bedding, school supplies, soap, and 25 computers for pastors. The photos on the inside of this newsletter tell the story of that busy day. Everyone went home that evening tired but satisfied.

In this newsletter we have enclosed a little card with 2 small Russian coins on it. You could say that these are a modern day 'widow's mite'. Like the widow's mite, humanitarian aid multiplies the value of the goods sent compared to the cost of shipping. Financial gifts from our supporters across North America also multiplies in the souls won for Jesus overseas. Please keep this card as our gift to you to remind you that no gift given to the Lord is too small to have a big impact for the Kingdom of God.

Please prayerfully consider giving a gift this month to help keep our warehouse running and continue sending humanitarian aid. It costs around $8000 just for shipping one container and we still need to send at least one more container this year. With your help MPI will continue putting the best and most needed items into the hands of those who need it most.

Sincerely,

Heather Quinn

Interim Executive Director

The Widow's Mite

Our Gift to You!
Russian Kopeks

The Bible tells us about a poor widow who gives two small coins as an offering to God. She trusted God enough to give all she had. Jesus used this gift of only two mites to teach his disciples about giving. This lady's faithfulness and sacrifice made the difference. Similar to that widow's mite, these Russian kopeks are worth only .0003 of a Canadian dollar each.

Many people believe that what they have to give will not make a difference overseas. But that is not true. Jesus measures a gift by the heart of the giver. Please keep these kopeks to remind you that, like the widow's mite, even the smallest gift is of great value.
